AIDS MEN TO HELP THEMSELVES. Success of the Industrial Christian Alliance

-Wants a Building and Farm. The Industrial Christian Alliance of 170 Bleecker street, an organization intended to help men to help themselves by enabling them to earn the aid they receive, celebrated its twelfth anniversary last night. The secretary's report showed that in the last year the men aided earned $7,000 toward their own support. The annual expenditure their own support. The annual expenditure for provisions and working expenses amounted to $15,000.

Since organization 800,000 meals have been served: 217,500 lodgings provided and 23,000 garments distributed. Seven thousand men, representing thirty-three nationalities, thirty-two religions and thirty-six trades, have been admitted to the institution. The place is maintained by voluntary contributions, profits on the men's labor and memberships of $5 a year.

An appeal was made for 2,000 of these memberships, to help the fund for a larger and more modern building, which it is intended soon to erect. It is also proposed to acquire a farm of about one hundred acres near the city, where homeless convalescents, and the older and less robust applicants requiring a country life to rehability of the server of applicants requiring a country life to rehab-ilitate them, may be cared for.

No New Trial for E. A. Noblett.

Recorder Goff yesterday handed down decision denying a motion for a new trial for Edwin Arden Noblett. Noblett was convicted in May, 1901, of grand larceny in the first degree and was sentenced to seven years in Sing Sing. He got $10,000 in cash from a man whom he agreed to make a partner in a business in which he said $200,000 was invested. Noblett was in debt at the time and the stock which he turned over for the $10,000 was worthless.
